How to use this resource

This autobiographical account of a Greek-speaking person's life is intended to be used in residential care or in the community by aged care staff to provide them with a deeper insight into the life of the older person they care for, culturally, spiritually, personally and historically.

Equipping aged care staff with more relevant and adequate information enhances their cultural competence and deepens cultural sensitivity.

This resource was also developed to empower and encourage families to collate and provide biographical and cultural information about their loved ones and to preserve this knowledge for the benefit of future generations, as an account of their unique family history.

This booklet is ideal for use as a basis for reminiscing and sharing life-experiences with visitors (family, friends and volunteers) and can be a most useful resource for those caring for Greek-speaking residents who are living with dementia.

This life-story book template is a GUIDE ONLY. The booklet can be completed digitally or printed and completed manually. Pages may be enlarged and laminated to produce a poster style resource or produced in A4/A5 booklet form and to be displayed somewhere prominent in the home or displayed at the bed-side of the resident for staff and visitors to easily access.

Once the older person's time has ended at a residential facility, the 'Pages of My Life' booklet is intended to be returned to their family.

It is our sincerest hope that families and service providers who care for Greek-speaking older people will enjoy reaping the great rewards that come with compiling this useful and versatile resource.

Enjoy the journey!
